LOCAL AND GENERAL

Brooks has struck a tax rate of 40 mills on the dollar.

There was no school Wednesday afternoon, Miss Nicholson being ill.

George McKee, of the Union Bank, spent the holiday in Bassano.

Collector McKee has been in Bowell and Irvine during the past week.

A. D. Thompson made a business trip to Medicine Hat, returning on Tuesday.

E. E. Sears has returned from Medicine Hat and is getting busy on his land.

King Municipality council meets at Rudolph Johnson's next Thursday, October 22nd.

Arthur C. Hughes went up to Calgary Friday, and remained until Monday, visiting friends.

As witness for J. Y. Clark, F. E. McDonald grazed the land office in the Hat, Wednesday morning.

George Howson, Immigration Inspector, was in Carlstadt last week to look after some cases of distress.

Ole Berger returned this week from Pincher Creek called home by the death of his brother-in-law, J. Dyvig.

Robert Elliott, L. H. C. collector at Relaw, combined business with pleasure, and spent Sunday and Monday with friends here.

The Lutheran Young People's Society had a very enjoyable and profitable afternoon last Sunday at the home of Hans Johnson.

Turkey Day was duly observed in Carlstadt. School was dismissed, most of the stores closed, and the day was given over to pleasure.

H. V. Luen returned on Thursday from Monarch where he had been working, to get his land ready for next year.

A. W. Sharpe returned home to Peetles Friday, after having spent the summer working on the C. P. R. farms at Coldale, near Lethbridge, and at Cassils.

A. J. Drummond was in Calgary last week attending to business, and incidentally witnessing the World's Championship ball game played at the newspaper offices there.

Having been called to his regiment, the 31st East Surreys, M. D. Turnbull left Wednesday for North Devon, England. "Monte's" many friends wish him honor and a safe return.

C. T. Hildahl is stepping high these days, and wearing a smile that won't rub off. A new ten-pound boy was added to the family on October 3rd, and mother and son are doing well.

John Craig Jr. is among the first of this district to respond to his country's call for a second contingent from Canada. He went from here to Calgary Tuesday, where he enlisted.

Finding Dan Cupid rather lazy hereabouts, Rev. F. E. Clydale left Tuesday evening for Byrke, Ontario, to see if he could scrape up some business there. He plans to spend a month there at his old home.

There's a Hoosier grin four inches broad on the face of A. J. Rose. With the moisture down at least eighteen inches in the soil, and thirty inches in summer fallow—and with a large acreage being prepared, who wouldn't smile?

The newest post-office in the district is named Bingleville. It is located eight miles north-east of Suffield. Postmaster Hanson is preparing for the first batch of mail, which is due to arrive this Saturday.

If there is sufficient demand, N. E. Stuart will have a carload of potatoes shipped in to be sold at about cost. If you need a supply let Mr. Stuart know how many you can use, as early next week as possible.

Miss Nellie Olson, who has been employed in Medicine Hat, returned here Tuesday to be at home with her parents.

J. DYVIG IS DEAD

Jacob Dyvig was born on January 2, 1879, in Benton county, Iowa. Early in life he moved with his family to Woodstock, Iowa, which is still the family home. On March 4, 1899, at Pierpont, South Dakota, he was united in marriage with Miss Sylvia Berget, daughter of O. H. Berget, who is a resident of this district.

After residing at Pierpont for some years, Mr. and Mrs. Dyvig homesteaded near Minot, North Dakota, and in 1900 moved to Alberta, settling near Carlstadt.

Five children were born to this union, three boys and two girls, the youngest now being three years of age.

In June of this year Mr. Dyvig was attacked with typhoid, and entered Calgary Holy Cross hospital.

Early in September he returned home, but a relapse soon followed.

Dr. McEwen was called and every attention possible was given the patient, but of no avail. A second relapse followed, and at five o'clock on Monday afternoon, October 12, Mr. Dyvig's soul passed into the Great Beyond.

The funeral is being held this (Thursday) afternoon from the family home, conducted by Rev. J. A. J. Drummond, being the undertaker. Interment is in the Carlstadt cemetery.

In this dark and trying hour, the friends and sympathies of friends and neighbors go out toward the bereft wife and her fatherless children.

Cheered by the abundant moisture, Joe Y. Clark last week came down from Calgary to arrange to have every possible acre prepared for next year's crop. He was accompanied by his family. Mrs. Clark has not been well, having undergone another operation on her throat.

Painters are busy redecorating the C. P. R. station.

The News carries a feature page this week of special interest to farmers. We are indebted to Hon. Ducean Marshall, Minister of Agriculture of Alberta, for the photos and appended reading matter. The balance of the page is from the Dominion Experimental Farm at Ottawa, and a recent issue of "Conservation."

C. N. R. CONSTRUCTION

At a meeting held by the C.N.R. officials at Mayor Brown's office, at Medicine Hat, Harry W. Johnson, of Carlstadt, was appointed a member of the employment committee.

It will be necessary to get an employment slip as there are over 100 teams at work already and as there will only be about 200 teams required, it might be to the interest of those desiring work in this locality to get started as soon as possible.

Already quite a few have left to turn a grub stake for the winter. But a farmer should not overlook the fact that prospects of crop next year never were better; he might be serving his own interests better by getting ground ready for next years crop.

Miss Searle, of Medicine Hat, visited Mrs. Stubbs last week returning home Friday.

At the present prices of the different classes of live stock there is no animal on the farm that requires as little care, and that will return larger profit than will sheep properly cared for. It is estimated that under ordinary conditions the fleece of the ewe will pay for the feed for herself and a lamb, so that it will be seen that the lamb crop is practically clear profit. Contrary to general opinion, the care of sheep is not a very serious matter. The only time when special attention is needed is during the lambing period in the spring. The new-born lamb, which is an exceedingly weak thing during the first few hours of its life, needs special care, and proper shelter should be provided at this time. This does not necessarily mean expensive quarters; a wind break and a shelter from rain and snow is about all that is necessary.

"Sweet Marie," pride of the Medicine Hat demonstration farm, is shown above. "Sweet Marie" is an excellent type of Berkshire sow, one of the many on the demonstration farms. On these farms, the system of having two litters a year has not been very successful, and has often resulted in all or most of the winter litters dying. Practically no trouble has been experienced in raising spring litters. In a few cases the young pigs came weak and very fat, occasionally without much hair. There is little doubt but that this may be partly attributed to a lack of drinking water during the time when the sow is carrying the young. In the severe weather the water is often so cold that the sow will not drink much. The result is that she becomes constipated, and more or less fevered, consequently the proper development of the young is interfered with. If, however, the drinking water is warmed, and some chop mixed in it, the sows will be found to drink all they require, and thus help to keep the digestive organs in good healthy condition.

$2.00 WHEAT NEXT YEAR?

Big Shortage In 1915 Crop Certain Farmers Should Put In Every Acre Possible.—A Few Suggestions.

Public officials have been exhorting the Canadian farmer to sow more wheat this year. But it is doubtful if, even yet, the North American wheat producer realize fully what an opportunity confronts him. The farmer, of all men, should not share the exaggerated idea of the importance of Canada and the States as contributors to the world's food supply. It is rather the actual predominance of Europe as a food producer that renders the situation serious and places a premium on American supply.

Europe leads the continents in annual wheat production and, normally, raises twice as much as North America, her nearest competitor. She grew over one half of the record breaking world's wheat crop of 1913, doubling the combined contribution of Canada, United States and Mexico.

European nations now in arms alone grew 42 per cent of the yield, while the whole of North America produced only slightly over 25 per cent. On the reasonable supposition that shortage of labor, poor tillage, decreased acreage and other adverse conditions will reduce the 1914 wheat crop of European combatants by one third, over half of North America's entire yield would be required to meet the deficiency.

The following table shows the respective contributions of the ten leading wheat producing nations to the record crop of 1913.

The countries marked with an asterisk are either directly or indirectly engaged in the war.

*Russia	837,795,000 bushels
United States	793,330,000 "
*India	364,000,000 "
*France	319,373,000 "
*Canada	231,717,000 "
*Aust-Hun	226,311,000 "
Italy	214,407,000 "
*Russia in Asia	189,864,000 "
*Germany	171,077,000 "
Argentina	141,000,000 "

The moral to the Canadian farmer is simple.

Grow wheat!
Sow every available acre to a crop of which the world will stand badly in need in the coming months.

As farmers on the prairies know, it is, of course, too late in the season to attempt to increase the wheat area by breaking new land for the crop in 1915. The only way to get more wheat is to promptly and carefully handle the stubble land. In 1915, however, we shall need the greatest wheat crop in our history.

It is therefore urged upon every farmer in the wheat growing districts of Manitoba, Saskatchewan,

Getting ready for Western Canada's bumper wheat crop, upon which, together with that of the States, Europe is depending for her 1915 food supply.

and Alberta, that he give this matter of fall preparation of stubble land for wheat, his immediate and careful attention. Let it be the determination of every farmer to make his wheat acres in 1915 yield as never before.

It is certain that an increase of many millions of bushels can be insured, if every farmer on the prairies will carefully consider the following suggestions and put them into practice immediately.

FALL WORK.

On the Summer Fallow

1. Get the summer fallow into good shape.
2. Let it be ready for the seed the moment the snow goes next spring.

Cultivate where weedy and leave in such shape that it will quickly absorb any rain and be as safe as possible from loss of moisture by evaporation.

On the Stubble Land

1. Every acre of stubble land in good enough shape to be fairly safe for wheat should be plowed right now.
2. Deep soils should be plowed deeply, shallow or light soils with a more shallow fallow.
3. Do the plowing well.
4. Every acre should be harrowed within ten days after plowing.
5. Pack the land if possible after harrowing.
6. Until the freeze up comes let every effort be directed toward getting the fields into shape. Hours on the ground now will almost certainly save days next spring. Use every autumn hour to advantage.

WINTER WORK

1. Get the seed wheat ready, (a) clean thoroughly, (b) test carefully for germination, (c) bag neatly and (d) store in dry quarters.
2. Get the best variety possible. Marquis is the best; get it if you can.
3. Put machines for spring work into good shape.
4. Get the horses right. Good feed and a little exercise in March and early April mean greater endurance and quicker work when seeding begins.
5. Make arrangements to treat your seed for smut, bluestone and formalin needed.

SPRING WORK

1. Get on the land early.
2. Do the work well at seeding time. Cultivation or disking, especially in the case of stubble land always means bigger and better crops.
3. Treat the wheat for smut before sowing, bluestone or formalin.
4. Such stubble land as it was not possible to plow in the fall should be well cultivated or thoroughly disced before seeding and as early as possible in the spring.

In districts where crops were a failure this year, 1914, the suggestions offered above are particularly applicable. On every prairie farm, however, they are worthy of thoughtful consideration and careful practice.

For further information write the Experimental Farm, Ottawa, Ontario.

Economies may be warranted, but they had better be effected in any other department than in the sales department—the department of revenue. Don't drop your advertising.

One of the topics most freely discussed at the International Irrigation Congress held in Calgary last week was the question of educating the farmer—of letting him know the best methods of agriculture as evolved by the state or provincial Colleges. In connection with this, it is interesting to note the method employed in Alberta. Agricultural education in Alberta is based upon the principle of the People's School of the Old Country, modified to suit conditions here; from which it is expected that the needs of the farmer's sons and daughters can best be met, and by which the greatest amount of service can be given those who engage in the profession of agriculture. The plan was to establish on each Demonstration Farm, a school of Agriculture; one at Claresholm, one at Olds, and a third at Vermilion. About five hundred students can be accommodated at the three schools. Above is shown a class in stock judging at one of the schools.

The Carlstadt News

Carlstadt, Alberta.

HEBERT S. KETCHUM, Proprietor.

Politics in the Hat

It has rightly been said that in the matter of looking after her settlers, Canada takes first place among the nations.

Never before, in modern times, has any government come forward with ready assistance for her needy settlers, as has the Dominion, in the case of settlers in Southern Saskatchewan and Alberta this year.

Great praise is due and is given to "the powers that be" in this affair.

But in our nearby city, Medicine Hat the eternal political graft is creeping in.

Changes of favoritism are rife and in many cases well substantiated.

The settler's misfortune is being preyed on to pull future votes—and present dollars.

Particularly nauseating are the stories which come from the Hat, where it has been practically proven that these in charge of the relief work have been abusing their office to the gain of their friends, particularly Nelson Spencer, M.A., and one of the mills of that city.

Great praise is due the Dominion government for undertaking this work—but unless they change their policy so far as the Hat is concerned, nothing can follow but dishonor and disgrace.

DISTRICT PRODUCE WINS BIG PRIZE

On numerous occasions in the past we have given proof that the land in this district is of the best quality and capable of producing the very best grain and roots if only we have the moisture. The latest proof comes as a result of the International Irrigation Congress held in Calgary last week.

At this congress the products of irrigated land in this district were in competition against all Western Canada, and the result was most gratifying.

The Southern Alberta Land Co.'s exhibit, grown on their farm at Ronolane, south-west of Carlstadt on the Sulfur-Kipp branch, won first prize for roots and vegetables, a cash prize of $250. They also won first prize for flax seed and second prize in alfalfa. The Canadian Wheatlands Co., of Sulfur, won first prize in alfalfa and first in beans.

Second prize in the roots and vegetables was won by the C. P. R. farm at Strathmore. Kelowna, B. C., in the famous Okanagan valley won third prize. The Southern Alberta Co.'s exhibit included:

Four varieties of cabbage, two of squash, three of cabbage, three of potatoes, five of onions, two of beans, celery, watermelon, vegetable marrow, beets, sugar beets, parsnips, cucumbers, cauliflower, beans and peas.

One of the company officials informed us that they had gathered over eight tons of tomatoes to the acre; and that from a small patch of less than two acres of sugar corn, 1,000 dozen ears had been sold this summer at an average price of 25c per dozen.

BRUTUS BLARNEY

Carlstadt doesn't put any small estimate on the value of brn rain and snow, but still, we invite you all to watch Brutus for the results next year.

We see by last week's "News" that W. H. McEwen is back from threshing. Well so is C. Jones. They both are still feeling the effect of what they earned while away—and didn't get.

Roy Garbutt has gone to work on the range. We hope he will be as good this time not a passing fancy.

W. H. McEwen called on J. W. McLaughlin Tuesday.

How many of the Brutus boys remembered that Monday was Thanksgiving day? Well we mostly all forgot about it until it was all over, but we were glad to go for it afterward by "being thankful" that we had forgotten it.

Mr. Sanahar, of Springfield, was a Brutus visitor Monday.

Row Anderson passed through Brutus on his way to the C. N. R. construction camp last week.

At the school meeting on Saturday, J. W. McLaughlin was elected to fill the vacancy caused by E. Burkhardt leaving the district.

Messrs Potter and Birc, of Tripols, were visiting friends Sunday.

J. W. McLaughlin is busy harvesting his potato crop. He states the yield to be very good but that the potatoes are still small.

Sam Hellevang was a Carlstadt visitor Monday.

Miss Ora Benjamin is visiting Basasano friends.

Buy an Irrigated Farm FROM THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

BECAUSE Irrigation makes the farmer independent of rainfall and insures good crops, not occasionally, but every year.

Irrigation makes possible the successful culture of alfalfa, the king of fodders, which insures best returns in dairying and mixed farming.

Irrigation means intensive farming and close settlement with all the advantages of a densely populated agricultural community.

Irrigation in the Canadian Pacific Railway Trirrigation Block is no longer an experiment, the year 1914 having absolutely demonstrated its success wherever intelligently applied.

You can buy irrigated land from the Canadian Pacific Railway at prices ranging from $35 to $75 per acre, with twenty years to pay and the privilege of a loan of $2,000.00 for improvements (5% interest); no principal payment at the end of first and second years and no water rental for first year. Assistance is also given in supplying stock in approved instances.

This is the most liberal offer of irrigated farm land on record. Get full particulars from—

Hog feeders--

The BEST hog feed is the cheapest -- and I have it! Prairie Pride Flour is still in the lead, and the price is less than for any other of the same quality.

TIDE LAKE

Mr and Mrs Bob Mills called on Mr and Mrs G. Olson last Sunday.

Miss Hilda Olson spent Sunday with Mabel Olson.

Myrtle Olson has been on the sick list for the past week. Her many friends will be pleased to hear that she is improving.

The Tide Lake homesteaders are beginning to come back from threshing, so winter won't be quite so lonesome after all. Cheer up boys! The pretty girls are still in the country.

Clint Adams returned to his homestead last Wednesday.

The Messrs Koopman spent Sunday afternoon with Mr and Mrs Foster.

All the farmers are smiling at their crops for next year.
